

Migration Case Studies

Help for Heroes

X Factor and ongoing coverage in the national newspapers meant that the Help for Heroes hosting environment was not able to cope with the demand from visitors to the website. A move to a new hosting environment was confirmed and SEM Solutions called in to deal with the migration. Time was running short – an appearance on Saturday night's episode of X Factor would inevitably result in a huge spike in traffic and the last thing they needed was any downtime, especially when you consider the site's importance in raising much needed cash in the form of online donations.

The migration went to plan and the site was ready to handle the anticipated traffic volumes just in time for the weekend showing of X Factor.

Way to Blue

Way to Blue is Europe's leading digital press and promotions agency, representing a range of leading film, DVD, music, gaming and TV clients.

Realising the importance of reliable hosting they decided to move to a new hosting environment during the summer of 2008. With a client base that includes Disney, Pixar, Universal, Sony and Warner Brothers it was essential that the migration went to plan with as close to zero downtime as possible. Following an introduction by the hosting company SEM Solutions planned and carried out a flawless migration that exceeded their expectations and ensured a painless transfer to their new, super-reliable hosting environment.

Digital Doghouse

Digital Doghouse is a complete (music) management company, delivering a comprehensive and professional service for leading artists within the house music industry. Digital Doghouse core operations are:

- >> Artist management, representation and promotion.
- >> Label digital distribution.

Following a well planned and executed migration SEM Solutions and Digital Doghouse have worked together on a number of custom web development & ecommerce projects.

If you are considering a move to UKFast and need a migration partner, or if you have any web development requirements (especially ecommerce) you can contact SEM Solutions by calling +44 (0)1797 361 688, emailing enquiries@semsolutions.co.uk or by visiting <http://www.semsolutions.co.uk>.